The luxury of simplicity:

The Perfect Pencil with a sophisticated Guilloche look

It is the ideal utensil for all lovers of classic writing. In short, it is the Perfect Pencil. The pocket pencil was already part of the Faber-Castell product range back in the middle of the 19th century. Decorative sleeves, which also served as extenders, protected the pencil lead and its jacket, transforming a simple writing utensil into a true piece of luxury.

With the Perfect Pencil, Graf von Faber-Castell has completed the fine art of "pencil writing", since it now offers all the essentials for writing, making notes and sketching. It comes with a platinum-plated protective cap, which can be attached as an extender and which contains a sharpener, and the eraser at the end of the pencil adds the finishing touch to this handy companion.

The familiar fluted lead pencil classic in brown and black is now complemented by a new surface design: the Perfect Pencil is now also available in a sophisticated Guilloche look. The fine pattern creates a dual-colour effect and gives the pencil an unusual texture, making the experience of writing especially pleasant.
